THE PROBLEM

Take Flight's teams were managing each property by looking backward — running this week off last week's results. The weekly P&L was too slow to act on, and historical-only tracking meant problems surfaced long after they could be fixed. Leadership also wanted to educate their teams, not just report at them — to give frontline staff the numbers and the context to make better calls in real time.

WHAT THEY DID

Take Flight rolled out the full Breadcrumbs platform across the group, putting live daily numbers in front of every team and automating the back-office work their accounting team used to do by hand.

THE RESULT

- $5,000–$7,000 saved per month
- 10+ hours of back-office time saved per month
- A culture of accountability built on live numbers teams can dig into — with BRD doing the daily work and educating the team along the way

> Quality decisions, with more positive and predictable results — week after week.
